Management Commentary

“2018 marked Electra Meccanica’s 60-year anniversary and was a year of continued operational execution, laying the foundation for a successful launch of our SOLO EV in 2019,” said Jerry Kroll, CEO of Electra Meccanica. “Our state-of-the-art production facility in Chongqing, China with our strategic partner, Zongshen Industrial Group, is in the process of ramping up towards mass production. We produced 20 SOLO EV’s in the first quarter of 2019 and remain fully confident in our ability to ramp up production and start to deliver SOLO’s to our customers in 2019.

“Our unique, capital-light approach to production with a trusted and experienced manufacturing partner significantly minimizes production risk and capital requirements. This is particularly important as we ramp production and deliver on the strong demand for our vehicles. We currently have 64,327 vehicle pre-orders and expect that number to grow with deliveries and an increased presence on the roads of California, Washington and Oregon.

“With the critical infrastructure needed to distribute and service our SOLO EVs across the west coast in place, we are now executing upon our strategic plan to get vehicles in the hands of pre-order customers in 2019. Our corporate dealership is up and running in Los Angeles, California and already facilitating initial SOLO deliveries to pre-order customers, both individuals and businesses. I would encourage everyone to stop by for a test drive of our SOLO at our dealership for a superior driving experience in a vehicle that provides a more efficient, cost effective and environmentally friendly commute. We believe that Electra Meccanica’s SOLO will revolutionize the way people commute.”

“We’re extremely encouraged by the support and interest in the SOLO EV by individuals who share our mission in preserving and protecting our planet by making transportation more sustainable and environmentally friendly. Electra Meccanica is undoubtedly at a key inflection point. I look forward to an exciting year as we continue to execute upon our business plan and create long-term value for our shareholders,” concluded Kroll.
